Singer Fiona meets Earl Spencer

■ Picture by Paul Spence.

Fiona met the Earl, of Althorp House in Northamptonshire, at the British Travel Trade Fair in Birmingham last week.

He was in charge of a stand promoting the family home where the late princess is buried, and Fiona was supporting the Didcot Railway's exhibition.

She will be singing for the society at an event in August as well as other railway preservation groups in Yorkshire and Norfolk.

Fiona's wide repertoire of songs from Victorian to modern times makes her a popular performer at heritage celebrations. She has also been booked for a major show in Belgium this summer called Wings and Wheels.
